CALL FOR PAPERS

CURRENT TRENDS IN HUMANITIES AND LAW RESEARCH

(Edited Volumes in Babcock University Ongoing Research Output)

Preamble:

The College of Postgraduate Studies, Babcock University is pleased to announce as part of its multi-disciplinary research endeavour the Call for Papers (CFP) for publication in the first issue of its edited volume: CURRENT TRENDS IN HUMANITIES AND LAW RESEARCH (CTHLR). This Edited Volume is primarily intended to publish aspects of the ongoing researches/theses by Doctoral Students and their Supervisors. Extract of outstanding and ongoing Master degree researches as well as outcome of research work by scholars across the globe who are in partnership or collaborative research with Babcock University staff and, or students will also find this outlet useful. High profile inter-disciplinary or multi-disciplinary papers and researches are invited. These series are a collection of peer-reviewed papers and they cover the areas of Humanities and Law.

Papers submitted for assessment and publication must be original, between 4000 and 10000 words, thoroughly researched, and written in good English in the American Psychological Association (APA) 6th Referencing Style for Humanities and Oxford University Standard for the Citation of Legal Authorities (OSCOLA) 4th Edition for Law. The abstract shall not exceed 300 words, and a list of not more than five keywords. Soft copies of papers, typed in Microsoft® Word, should be submitted via e-mail attachment to: humanities.law.cpgs@babcock.edu.ng. The paper should be submitted with a signed Cover Letter (in a separate Microsoft® Word file), indicating Conflict of Interest of Authors and affirming that the same manuscript is not under review in any publication outlet and would not be so submitted, till a final decision is taken by the Editorial Team of CTHLR. The deadline for submission of papers towards the July and December edition is June 30, 2022 and October 30, 2022, respectively.

For efficient peer-review of papers, the first page of all papers submitted for assessment must be a Cover Page, containing the following information:
